

HOW TO CLEAN YOUR CHARCOAL GRILL

A CLEAN GRILL RENTS MORE OFTEN AND FOR MORE MONEY

If a clean Big John Grill goes out your door today, a satisfied customer comes back tomorrow. The cleaning procedure outlined below is the most cost effective way to clean your grill and renew that showroom appearance. Remember, a properly maintained, clean grill will rent more often and for a higher rental rate.

Additional grill rentals can be booked if extra grill tops are in inventory. By lining your firebox with aluminum foil, and replacing the grill top with a clean one from inventory, you can make the grill available for rental in less than 5 minutes. More inventory turns makes more money for you.

Booster Beads are the most cost effective grill cleaning solution available. When used in a soak tank, Booster Beads will remain active for 6 months with limited evaporation. Each 10 pound bucket costs only $48.75 and yields 50 gallons of cleaning solution at only 98¢ per gallon.

HOW TO PREP YOUR CHARCOAL GRILLS

1. Line Charcoal firebox with aluminum foil.
2. Remove grill top from firebox and spray with Pam or vegetable oil so food does not stick to grill top.
3. Removing grill top immediately after cooking prevents grease from baking onto grill surface.
4. Cold water poured onto hot coals in the firebox will seriously damage the grill. The sudden change in temperature causes the firebox to twist.
5. After coals are cold, crumble aluminum foil with ash inside and dispose of in an approved manner.
6. Reline the firebox with fresh aluminum foil, install extra grill top from inventory and your grill is available to earn additional rental income in less than 5 minutes after it is returned.
7. Soak original grill grate in Booster Bead solution for 24 hours. Pressure wash to restore almost new appearance.
8. Booster Beads are ideal for cleaning carbon and grease from cast iron, stainless steel and nickel plated grill tops.
